SHERIFF SAVES NEGROES

300 DEPUTIES SWORN IN TO PROTECT ILLINOIS MAIL MAN'S SLAYERS.

FOUR COMPANIES MILITIA OUT

Mob Frustrated When Sheriff at Vienna Instructs Railroad Officials How to Operate Trains.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 11.—Rioting is reported from Vienna, Ill., thirty-five miles north of this city. The local militia company has been ordered to proceed there on a special train at once.

It is reported a mob is trying to lynch several negroes. The telephone wires have been cut to this city and Vienna is isolated.

Sheriff Frustrates Mob.

Vienna, Ill., Jan. 11.—Mobs that formed at Eldorado and Harrisburg tonight to lynch three negroes in jail here, charged with the murder of Allen Clark, a rural carrier, were frustrated when they could not get a train to bring them to this city.

Acting on instructions from Sheriff Mathis, the Big Four officials refused to permit freight trains to continue to this city from Eldorado and Harrisburg and no trains will be run until tomorrow morning.

By that time it is expected that four companies of militia ordered out by Gov. Deneen upon an appeal from the sheriff that a lynching was imminent will have arrived.

The jail is heavily guarded, Sheriff Mathis having sworn in 300 deputies, or nearly every available man in the village, to protect the prisoners.

The military company from Cairo is now on the way here, it is reported, and should arrive by midnight.

Assaulted Saturday Night.

Clark was assaulted by three negroes Saturday night en route to Harrisburg. The trio of negroes were Jesse Taborn, Harry Taborn and Alexander Jenks.

The three were arrested and lodged in the Johnson county jail at Vienna.

Clark died tonight at 6 o'clock, and the report of his death aroused popular sentiment against his slayers to the frenzy point, particularly at Harrisburg, his home.

Bobs of between 300 and 500 persons each formed at that city and Eldorado and were only awaiting means of getting transportation to this city.

Sheriff Mathis took immediate precautions to protect his prisoners, appealing to Gov. Deneen for troops.

Governor Orders Militia.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 11.—Gov. Deneen tonight ordered four companies of the Fourth Infantry, Illinois National Guard, to report at once to Sheriff Mathis of Johnson county in order to prevent the possible lynching of three negroes now confined in jail at Vienna on a charge of shooting Allen Clark, a rural mail carrier last Saturday night.

Capt. Satterfield of Mount Vernon, Creaney, of Cairo, Cody of Paris and Swain of Danville, with their respective companies, were ordered to report at once to Sheriff Mathis for duty. All orders from the governor were stamped "At once."

Sheriff Mathis said he had been informed that a mob was forming at Eldorado and Harrisburg and had planned to go to Vienna on a freight train. At Vienna it was planned, so he reported, to mob the jail and lynch if possible, the three negroes.

According to advices received here from Sheriff Mathis, a rural mail carrier, Allen Clark, was shot last Saturday night on the train en route from Vienna to Harrisburg by a trio of negroes named Jessie Labor, Harry Toborn and Alexander Jenks.

To further forestall the reported mob, Gov. Deneen telegraphed immediately to P. J. Maloney of Mount Carmel, superintendent of the Cairo division of the Big Four Railroad, ordering him not to transport over his road any crowd of persons such as described by Sheriff Mathis.

Gov. Deneen also issued a special order to sheriff Mathis to swear in special deputies and take every precaution to enforce the law to the letter.

SECOND HEARING GRANTED.

Board of Engineers Again Considering Cypress River Project.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The Board of Engineers today granted a second hearing on the Cypress river project, the plan being to improve the stream from Shreveport to Jefferson, as recommended by the local and division engineers. Representatives sheppard of Texas and Watkins of Louisiana and Mayor Sherrell of Jefferson appeared before the board and made arguments. The decision of the board will not be made public for several days.

THE CLUTCHES OF AN ADA OCTOPUS AT CITY'S THROAT

The city of Ada should own its lighting and electric power system. The exorbitant rates charged by the Ada electric light and power company, a monopoly owned by St. Louis parties, are most convincingly exorbitant ones. If the city of Ada is required to continue to pay $500 a month or six thousand dollars a year to the local monopoly for merely street lighting and water pumping power, it will have within a short period paid for an electric plant system. The prices charged the city of Ada for the public utility of lighting and pumping are hardly less than confiscation, and then the private consumers of light and power in the city of Ada are paying proportionately a sum quite as distinctly out of reason as is the city for its public requirements.

Food for Thought.

"MUNICIPAL PLANTS."

"The successful operation of the municipally owned waterworks and lighting plants in cities throughout the central west has given a strong impetus to improvements of this kind. Over forty municipal waterworks plants (many of these being combined water and lighting plants) have been installed in Oklahoma in the last year. Kansas installed thirty-four municipal plants in 1909, most of them being combined water and lighting plants. The Kansas state law permitting the state school fund to purchase municipal bonds has caused a ready home market for most of these bonds."—The Western Contractor.

Municipal Plants.

Several cities in Oklahoma already own, or are preparing to own, their power and lighting plants. Anadarko has already constructed hers and the agitators have reached the point of tangible action in Durant, Ardmore and other municipalities.

WILL ADOPT GREENWICH TIME.

Ireland Gains Half Hour of Daylight by Conforming to English Standard.

London, Jan. 11.—That "daylight-saving" proposition which was started by one Mr. Willett and which has gained recruits in many parts of the world has not been successful in England as yet, but he has been a source of strength to the movement just started in Ireland for the adoption there of Greenwich time.

Ireland and France are the only two civilized countries which make their own time independent of the Greenwich meridian and the zone-time system based thereon, and the interval between the passage of the sun over the Greenwich and Dublin, or Dublin, meridians is the awkward one of twenty-five minutes, twenty-one seconds, by which amount Irish time is later than English. By deciding to use Greenwich time in the "Green Isle" where everything English usually has its own troubles, it is held that no little inconvenience in the business relations of the two countries will be eliminated and the people of Ireland, in addition, will gain nearly one-half hour's daylight without the necessity of periodically altering their timepieces. Meantime, the latest reports assert that the legislature of Victoria is about to consider a bill modeled on the lines of Mr. Willett's proposition, which now has been discussed the world over. That it has a chance of becoming a law there, is held to be shown in the fact that a kind of plebiscite on the part of the colonists for its enactment. Enthusiasts have taken steps to bring the other Australian colonies into line on the question.

Glavis in the Woods.

White Salmon, Wash., Jan. 12.—L. R. Glavis, former chief of the field division of the general land office, is in the mountains thirty miles east of here on a fishing and hunting trip. He was reached by telephone tonight but refused to make any statement concerning the dismissal of Forester Gifford Pinchot.

TROUBLE JUST BEGINNING SAYS JAMES R. GARFIELD

GIVES HIS VIEW OF PINCHOT INCIDENT.

Issues Statement to Cleveland Paper

In Which He Says Roosevelt

Policies at Stake.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 11.—Declaring the policies of Roosevelt at stake and that the dismissal of Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot is not the end, but only an incident in the struggle, James R. Garfield, former secretary of the Interior, today wrote for a local newspaper his views on the conflict. His statement follows:

"I can not forbear a personal expression regarding the Roosevelt policies at this time. It is because one of the men who have stood nearest Roosevelt in the working out of those policies has only recently left public life, I refer to Gifford Pinchot.

Fight Against Privilege.

"There is no man in our country today who has done more for equality of opportunity for the rights of the great masses of the people of this country, for the fight against privilege, and his separation from the public service is one of the greatest losses that he have suffered.

"But, fortunately, it does not mean that his work for every one of those policies will cease in any particular. It merely means that it will be done in another way; that he and the rest of the people who have joined in the fight for carrying on the Roosevelt policies are engaged in a fight which is not for today, or one year or two years, but for generations to come. The policies that were initiated are the policies that must control if we are to be what this Nation ought to be in the future.

Strong Hearts Needed.

"It means that all right-minded men and women must recognize that the things that are worth while are the things that look to the future, that look to the individual betterment of the people of our country, that they can not be gained in a short time, by a short fight by weak-hearted.

"In the last year of his administration, President Roosevelt at different times announced through his messages and speeches some of the principal things for which he had worked, some of the things that received the name of the 'Roosevelt policies.' I shall cite a few quotations of some of the things that he said because his own words explain better than the words of anyone else, what he had in mind when he initiated those policies. He said:

Quotes Roosevelt.

"This Administration has achieved some things; it has sought; but has not been able to achieve others; it has doubtless made mistakes; but all it has done or attempted has been in the single, consistent effort to secure and enlarge the rights and opportunities of the men and women of the United States."

Against Woman Suffrage.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 12.—Protest against the sufficiency of the woman suffrage petitions recently filed with the Secretary of the State was made by Senator Ruben M. Roddie of Ada this afternoon. The protest alleges the petitions are not in proper form and that many of the signatures were not written by the persons themselves.

Woman suffrage is known as a state question No. 8 and proposes to amend the state constitution by striking the word "male" from the suffrage provision. Senator Roddie stated this afternoon this was a continuation of his opposition to female suffrage. He opposed in the First and Second Legislatures a proposition presented by Senator Yeager of Tulsa to submit the question to a vote of the people.

Crazy Man Slays Wife.

Springfield, Mo., Jan. 12.—William Christman shot and killed his wife at their home, eight miles west of here, this afternoon. Christman a short time ago was released from an insane asylum as cured.

RAILROADS AND TARIFF

TRUSTS O. K. SUBSIDY

ONLY HOPE LIES WITH DEMO-CRATS AND INSURGENTS.

President Taft Using Every Source
of Leverage at His Command.

(BY TAY)

Special to News.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Although
some of the republican leaders realize that the Humphrey ship subsidy
bill is almost as offensive to the people as was the Payne-Aldrich bill before its passage, the measure which
will open the "pork barrel" to private ship owners is to be jammed
through congress regardless of consequences.

The railroads, the tariff trusts and
all the other special interests that are represented in congress have added their O. K. to subsidy legislation. With President Taft using every source of leverage at his command to secure votes for the measure
the only hope for its defeat lies in a coalition of democrats and insurgents.

When it is considered that a ship
subsidy is popularly viewed as class
legislation of the most vicious kind,
and that it has been turned down
by such representative commercial
organizations as the New York
Chamber of Commerce as both un-
American and impractical in theory,
it would seem that in forcing such a law upon the people the republican leaders are absolutely indifferent
whether the next House is lost to the party now in power or not. Either
that, or else hope for republican
success in the approaching congressional elections has been abandoned,
and the Aldrich-Cannon crowd out
for all the "pork" that is to be had
in the comparative short time which remains before their forced retirement to private life.

What is the real significance of
the desperate attempt of the republicans to pass a ship subsidy bill at this time. From what viewpoint will
the average citizen be likely to view
the situation?

The plan now is to pass a ship
subsidy bill within the next few days.
If this is done, it will mean that the
first important legislation to pass at
this session was a measure that will benefit only a few already rich men.
It will mean that Congress deliberately turned its back upon legislation desired by the people to first
serve the special interests, and as
if to make more evident their contempt for public sentiment, the republican leaders have given the country to understand that while a
ship subsidy bill is to be passed,
no attention is to be paid at this
session to postal banks or statehood
for Arizona and New Mexico, which,
it will be recalled, were promised in
the republican national platform in
as clear-cut English as could possibly have been employed.

"Political blindness is the only expression I can think of to describe the action of the republican leaders
in persisting in their plan to pass

a ship subsidy bill at this time," said
Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, one of the best posted men
in the house of shipping and navigation laws. The leaders in charge of the majority side of the house
are simply drunk with power. They need only a little more rope, and
the job will be complete.

"If this ship subsidy bill is passed"
said Mr. Rainey, "where will the $5-000,000 that is to be paid annually
to the ship owners, come from? The subsidy's answer: 'Why, it is not
planned to take money from the public treasury. It is planned to use the
profit of the foreign mail branch of
the postoffice department, which is
approximately $5,000,000 annually.'"

"This is no answer to the question,
however. The postoffice department
is running at a loss of $17,500,000;
that was the deficit last year. If you
take the $5,000,000 of profit derived
from the foreign mail service to
give to ship owners, it will simply
mean the deficit will be increased by that amount. Any school boy can see that."

"Now if we give $5,000,000 to these
ship owners, some one must foot the bill! And the government has no
funds except those which it collects
by taxing the people."

"In a few words, therefore, ship
subsidy legislation is a law to further exploit and oppress all the people
for the further enrichment of multi-
millionaires."

"The experience of France alone
shows that the idea is wrong. Her heavy subsidies, though draining the
treasury, have utterly failed to produce the result anticipated while the
commerce of Norway in proportion to
its wealth and inhabitants makes an exceptionally fine showing, without
any subsidies whatever."

"It is true that Germany pays subsidies, but Germany does not depend upon ship subsidies. The Hamburg-American line, the largest steam
ship line in the world, does not receive a dollar of subsidy, and never
has except for two years (1901-3)
when two of the company's steam-
ships participated in a subsidized
service to east Asia, which they soon
voluntarily relinquished, German shipping and shipbuilding is growing,
but not on account of subsidies. German steamship lines are free to buy their ships at home or abroad, and
as a matter of fact, they sometimes
buy in one market, and sometimes
in another."

Special Stocks Show Weakness.

New York, Jan. 11.—The crumbling
away in prices of special stocks caused by sympathetic weakness in the whole stock market today. Rumors attributed much of the selling to the
same sources as were responsible for
the transactions in Rock Island on Monday after Christmas. The decline
included: Wheeling and Lake Erie
dropped 3 points, first preferred 5,
second preferred 3 3/4; Wabash-Pittsburg first certificates 3, second certificates 3 3/4; Wabash preferred 2,
Rock Island 2 1/2, Reading second
preferred 4 and Laclede Gas 3 1/2.

The average losses in the general
list were not nearly so severe, but prices were generally lower 1 to 2
points.

cidentally his insitution along side.

Another Holdenville Grand Jury.

Holdenville, Okla., Jan. 11.—There
will be a special grand jury convened in this city next Monday morning, being the third in the past nine months. The purpose is to investigate
the official conduct of county officials. District Judge Carruthers today obeyed a petition signed by about 500 citizens. The petition stated
among other things that it was plain
that the law was not being enforced
and it asked the court to secure competent non-resident counsel to conduct the investigation.

Judge Carruthers said in part:
"This petition brings a serious indictment against the good name of
our citizenship, as well as those
charged with the enforcement of the law." He paid particular attention
to that part of the petition relative
to obtaining special counsel, saying
that he did not intend to let the court
get mixed up in political and personal controversies, and that under
the law he had no authority to secure counsel, but that if the signers
or agitators of the petition wished
counsel, other than the county attorney, the governor's office was open
to hear the request of any citizens of this state.

There is considerable excitement
over the matter and the result of the grand jury next week will be anxiously
awaited.

Interment took place today at the Cedar Grove cemetery, a large number attending.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS.

U. S. Marshal Ed Brents of Ada Sweeps Coalgate Clear of Bootleggers and Puts Lid On.

The News is late in saying so, but it is true nevertheless, that Ed Brents spent a few days in Coalgate last week and as a result of this visit, he on Saturday last, arrested near a dozen men on the charge of unlawfully disposing of intoxicants, and in all, docketed about 24 cases for the state and landed several of the violators in the county jail. Among those who were apprehended was a wholesaler from Denison who happened to be in the city on a business errand.

It is said that this is the first cleaning out Coalgate has enjoyed recently, and that the officers whose intentions it seems are good have been threatened and intimidated until they became practically inactive in the enforcement of the liquor laws.

Brents will continue in aiding in the enforcement of the prohibition laws in Oklahoma, and other localities may soon receive his visiting card.

JOHNDEE, JR., FOR CONGRESS.

Has the Enthusiastic Support of Bible Class to Start With.

New York, Jan. 11.—Members of the Rockefeller Bible Class at the Fifth Avenue Baptist church are booming John D. Rockefeller, Jr., as a candidate for congress. The class has extended its formal congratulations to Mr. Rockefeller on the energy with which he has taken up his work as foreman of the special grand jury investigating the white slave traffic. With the congratulations went an expression of hope that the "cordial public endorsement will cause him to change his mind about the impossibility of a Rockefeller running for office."

ANNUAL MEETING OF FARMERS STATE BANK

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers State Bank was held at its banking house January 11th, and was attended by practically all the owners of stock. The reports of the officers and directors, regarding the business of the past year, were unanimously approved, and the board of directors re-elected.

Immediately following this meeting, the directors qualified and organized, by electing the following officers: President, Wm. L. Byrd, Vice President, Charles T. Barney; Cashier, F. O. Harris.

The Farmers State Bank was the first guaranty state bank organized in the city of Ada. Its president, Hon. Wm. L. Byrd, president of the institution, in the old days was one of the notable governors of the Chickasaw Nation. He is very substantial financially and conservative in his business transactions. Mr. F. O. Harris, cashier of the Farmers State bank received the commendation of its stockholders for the excellent active conduct of the detail affairs of the institution which he organized. It is the program of this bank to extend its scope of usefulness during the year 1910 and in every manner meet with the approval and satisfaction of a critical public appreciative of sound and conservative, but progressive banking.

To Abandon Echo.

Grove, Ok., Jan. 12.—L. Denning, who drives a mail stage between Grove and Afton, has been notified to abandon Echo as a stopping place for receiving and delivering mail. This means that the postoffice there is to be abolished. Echo is the oldest post office in the state. For many years those who have lived in that neighborhood have received their mail from that point. It is now likely that the patrons of Echo will be supplied from Needmore and Grove offices, or from boxes along the star route. It is also possible that the residents along that section of the country may soon have the advantage of rural free delivery.

Anadarko Receiving.

Anadarko, Okla., Jan. 11.—In celebration of the completion of a concrete dam across the Washita river, the cost of which was about $122,000, the commercial club held a jubilee meeting which was presided over by Mayor W. H. Plum. The fact that the city is to save $60,000 annually in the cost of operating its electric light plant, water plant and other municipal institutions was the cause of especial rejoicing, particularly when it is remembered that the cost of coal alone has been $8,000 annually.

Linn Not a Candidate.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 11.—Will Linn of Chickasha, secretary of the state election board, is not a candidate for chairman of the state democratic committee.

SOME MORE ABOUT THAT NORTH ADA NEWS BOX

REPORTER WILL BE AFTER THE ITEMS EVERY DAY.

The Dropping of Items Into the Box Is All That Is Necessary to Start the Ball.

The "news" box remains at the cement plant and all employees of the institution are requested to drop in items to be published in the Evening News each day. We want to start a department for that part of the city and each item dropped into the box will help start it. If you or your family have been visiting or if you are entertaining guests, or if you know of any sickness make a note of it and slip it in the box and same will be published in the paper the same day. If you think you can't write it in the proper way, make a mention of the facts on paper and the office will fix it up.

Our idea is to get North Ada as well represented in the Evening News as any other section of the city, and if you people will co-operate with us in the matter, this will be accomplished.

A representative of the paper will be at the plant about 2 p. m. every day whether there are items in the box or not.

Get busy now and let's get started.

FLATTERING SHOWING.

The public's attention is called to the verified statement in another column of the condition of the M. & P. bank at the close of business December 31st, 1909. Such a sound statement and such an amount of deposits for such a new bank bespeaks very flattering indeed for Bankers Rives and Mason.

Confusing to Lucinda

"Three of us girls started to come down town on a surface car. There was I and a friend of mine and a friend of hers who was with her. Now usually, you know, we girls pay each her own fare, but my friend wanted to pay the fare of her friend, and what my friend wanted to do was to give me a dime for herself and her friend and have me pay for all three; and what I wanted to do was to give my friend my nickel and have her pay all three fares. I hope you understand this as far as I've got, for it's going to get more complicated right away."

"Well, the car was crowded when we got aboard, and we all had to stand up, and we tried to arrange that fare business as we stood there in the crowd, so that everything would be all right and ready when the conductor came around, and so I dropped my nickel in her handbag so she could pay, and she tried to hand her dime to me at the same time so I could pay, but in the crush somehow the dime was dropped between us and it fell down between the slats on the floor of the car, and there we let it rest, because we couldn't get at it in the crowd."

"Then pretty soon my friend and her friend came to the street where they were to get off, which they did; and this, you understand, before the conductor had got to us to collect our fares. So, you see, they got off without anybody paying their fares, they or I or anybody. And now things began to get more mixed up."

"Pretty soon after they had got off the conductor came along for my fare—I had got a seat by that time, near where I had been standing—and I told him I had dropped a dime on the floor and he could take it out of that. But there were some people still standing in the car and the conductor couldn't get the mat up with people standing on it, but evidently he believed me about the dime, for he didn't ask me again for my fare but went out and stood on the platform. And then more things happened."

"Sitting next to me was a mother with her little daughter, a very pretty little girl and handsomely dressed, as for that matter her mother was, too."

and presently the mother spied that dime down between the slats on the floor, and she told her little daughter, and of course the little girl at once began to dig for it. But she couldn't get it out with her fingers and in a minute she looked up and said: "Mamma, give me a hairpin."

"And mamma smiled at that, but she gave her a hairpin, and in a minute more the little girl had got the dime—which she handed over at once to me. I don't think the mother knew it was mine, but somehow the little girl did."

"So now I had the dime back, and when we came to the street where I was to get off I handed it to the conductor as I passed out, telling him that there was the dime that I dropped, and he took my fare out of it, and gave me back a nickel."

"And then I tried to cipher out who had paid, and how much, and with whose money; and the more I ciphered the more I got mixed up. I had certainly paid two fares, one to my friend when I gave her my nickel, which, if she knew it at all, she had forgotten all about, and then I had paid another five cents to the conductor."

"I had paid twice and yet I was really out only five cents, for that nickel to the conductor was paid out of my friend's dime, and of course the change from it belonged to her. My friend had lost a dime, but I had given her five cents with which to pay my fare, which she couldn't do, because the conductor didn't come for it, and she would get from me five cents more, the change out of the lost dime, which I had recovered."

"So who had paid and how much had anybody paid or lost, and the more I thought about all this the more confused I got, till I got so I just couldn't think, and then I asked Claude if he could figure it out."

"My brother Claude is great on figures, he can do sums with signs and all that sort of thing, and he said, as I told you, that it was all simple enough, that all I wanted to bother about was what he called the net result, and he said that when I had given my friend back the nickel out of the dime the net result of the entire transaction would be that this party of three would have paid out one fare, the fare paid by me, and that the company would be out two fares."

"And I think I can understand it now, but I hope I shall never have another experience like that, because trying to get this one straight in my mind actually made my head ache."

A Miss.

"She says her face is her fortune."

"She is deceiving you."

"Why, has she money?"

The Idiocy of Man

"H'm!" said Aunt Amelia as she turned with unnecessary fervor the heel of the stocking she was knitting. The good-looking matronly woman who was watering the Boston fern turned quickly. "Now, Aunt Amelia," she exclaimed, "what have I done that's wrong? You used to make exactly that same disapproving noise when I was ten years old and stole cookies. I was merely telling Rosamund things for her own good. She's a pretty girl if she is my own daughter and I want her to be popular and worthy to be liked!"

"H'm!" said Aunt Amelia again. She poked a knitting needle reflectively through the lace at her wrist. "I don't know," she admitted, "that you said anything wrong. You were advising Rosie to be self-sacrificing and thoughtful of others and to get up early mornings so she could accomplish more. That's exactly what the proper sort of mother is expected to say. Still, if Rosie follows your advice she'll be left at the post, all right."

"Why, Aunt Amelia!" cried the matronly woman, sitting down in surprise at her relative's levity.

"I think I've picked up a bit of slang since the boys down home went to college," Aunt Amelia explained, with an air of pride. "I've kept up with the times since you were married, Anastasia! And you notice lots of things as you grow older."

"I was just thinking," went on Aunt Amelia, "about two girls down at home and wondering why every human man is an exception to the rule. You give any man the sort of girl he ought to like and he backs away and loses his head over the other kind and then expects you to congratulate him on having succeeded in making his whole life miserable."

"There were the Green girls, Emma and Bessie, and when you married and went away they were making mud pies. Well, when they grew up if ever there was a selfish bit of humanity it was Bessie Green. She was not indolent, she was just plain, downright lazy. People didn't think much about her faults, though, because her eyes had a trick of sparkling through her lashes at you and she was always ready for any good time that was going."

"Emma was just as pretty as Bessie, but she was quiet and she didn't look at you through her eyelashes. She had great gray eyes as open and clear as lakes and a fashion of seeing down to the bottom of your mind where you had tucked away the disagreeable part of yourself and thought it hidden. Not that Emma was a prig—she was just an exceptionally lovely, sweet-minded girl."

"Their mother was delicate and Emma used to get up early and see that breakfast was right for father and the boys. Usually Bessie had her breakfast sent upstairs. She said that since Emma was up for breakfast there really was no sense in her getting up, too. Emma knew how to cook and Bessie frankly said she loathed the kitchen and all concerned with it and would rather live on toast and tea than burn her face and hands and get a headache."

"Emma made herself the prettiest sort of dresses and blouses and Bessie got hers ready-made or hired a dressmaker. She said she didn't know how to sew and wasn't ever going to learn."

"In short, Emma spent her time doing things for other people because she was naturally so generous and sweet she couldn't help it. She had all the virtues of a model woman besides plenty of good looks, and she was properly modest and retiring. When they went out anywhere there might be an older man or so who would hunt out Emma because they had sufficient brains to appreciate her, but you ought to have seen the young circle about Bessie."

"Well, after Bessie had driven two men to drink and two others had quarreled about her and several more had had the blues for months she got engaged to the cashier in a bank just because Emma liked him. Oh, no, she didn't marry him—she coolly threw him over when a rich man came along. She promptly married the rich man."

"You ought to see her house! She won't bother her head over it, because she says there are servants to do that. Her husband never got a decent meal at home and nothing in the place is ever put away where it belongs. Her husband sews on his own buttons and carries up her breakfast to her before he leaves in the morning. If she sheds tears about anything he buys her diamonds, and if she sulks he lets her go to Europe."

"Emma? She married the bank cashier finally and they are ordinarily happy. You see, like all men who marry good wives, he takes his perfectly run home as a matter of course. Sometimes when he meets Bessie she looks at him through her eyelashes in the old way and his heart thumps."

The good-looking matronly woman stared out of the window. "I'd better send Rosamund to a beauty shop for cultivation and tell her to stop thinking about anybody but herself, if she is to be happy in future—is that what you mean?" she asked with a little sigh.

"I believe you might as well," replied Aunt Amelia, "the world being so perfectly idiotic in these present times."

SHERIFF SAVES NEGROES

300 DEPUTIES SWORN IN TO PROTECT ILLINOIS MAIL MAN'S SLAYERS.

FOUR COMPANIES MILITIA OUT

Mob Frustrated When Sheriff at Vienna Instructs Railroad Officials How to Operate Trains.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 11.—Rioting is reported from Vienna, Ill., thirty-five miles north of this city. The local militia company has been ordered to proceed there on a special train at once.

It is reported a mob is trying to lynch several negroes. The telephone wires have been cut to this city and Vienna is isolated.

Sheriff Frustrates Mob.
Vienna, Ill., Jan. 11.—Mobs that formed at Eldorado and Harrisburg tonight to lynch three negroes in jail here, charged with the murder of Allen Clark, a rural carrier, were frustrated when they could not get a train to bring them to this city.

Acting on instructions from Sheriff Mathis, the Big Four officials refused to permit freight trains to continue to this city from Eldorado and Harrisburg and no trains will be run until tomorrow morning.

By that time it is expected that four companies of militia ordered out by Gov. Deneen upon an appeal from the sheriff that a lynching was imminent will have arrived.

The jail is heavily guarded, Sheriff Mathis having sworn in 300 deputies, or nearly every available man in the village, to protect the prisoners.

The military company from Cairo is now on the way here, it is reported, and should arrive by midnight.

Assaulted Saturday Night.

Clark was assaulted by three negroes Saturday night en route to Harrisburg. The trio of negroes were Jesse Taborn, Harry Taborn and Alexander Jenks.

The three were arrested and lodged in the Johnson county jail at Vienna.

Clark died tonight at 6 o'clock, and the report of his death aroused popular sentiment against his slayers to the frenzy point, particularly at Harrisburg, his home.

Bobs of between 300 and 500 persons each formed at that city and Eldorado and were only awaiting means of getting transportation to this city.

Sheriff Mathis took immediate precautions to protect his prisoners, appealing to Gov. Deneen for troops.

Governor Orders Militia.
Springfield, Ill., Jan. 11.—Gov. Deneen tonight ordered four companies of the Fourth Infantry, Illinois National Guard, to report at once to Sheriff Mathis of Johnson county in order to prevent the possible lynching of three negroes now confined in jail at Vienna on a charge of shooting Allen Clark, a rural mail carrier last Saturday night.

Capt. Satterfield of Mount Vernon, Creaney, of Cairo, Cody of Paris and Swala of Danville, with their respective companies, were ordered to report at once to Sheriff Mathis for duty. All orders from the governor were stamped "At once."

Sheriff Mathis said he had been informed that a mob was forming at Eldorado and Harrisburg and had planned to go to Vienna on a freight train. At Vienna it was planned, so he reported, to mob the jail and lynch if possible, the three negroes.

According to advices received here from Sheriff Mathis, a rural mail carrier, Allen Clark, was shot last Saturday night on the train en route from Vienna to Harrisburg by a trio of negroes named Jesse Labor, Harry Taborn and Alexander Jenks.

To further forestall the reported mob, Gov. Deneen telegraphed immediately to P. J. Maloney of Mount Carmel, superintendent of the Cairo division of the Big Four Railroad, ordering him not to transport over his road any crowd of persons such as described by Sheriff Mathis.

Gov. Deneen also issued a special order to sheriff Mathis to swear in special deputies and take every precaution to enforce the law to the letter.

SECOND HEARING GRANTED.

Board of Engineers Again Considering Cypress River Project.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The Board of Engineers today granted a second hearing on the Cypress river project, the plan being to improve the stream from Shreveport to Jefferson, as recommended by the local and division engineers. Representatives Sheppard of Texas and Watkins of Louisiana and Mayor Sherrell of Jefferson appeared before the board and made arguments. The decision of the board will not be made public for several days.

THE CLUTCHES OF AN ADA OCTOPUS AT CITY'S THROAT

The city of Ada should own its lighting and electric power system. The exorbitant rates charged by the Ada electric light and power company, a monopoly owned by St. Louis parties, are most convincingly exorbitant ones. If the city of Ada is required to continue to pay $500 a month or six thousand dollars a year to the local monopoly for merely street lighting and water pumping power, it will have within a short period paid for an electric plant system. The prices charged the city of Ada for the public utility of lighting and pumping are hardly less than confiscation, and then the private consumers of light and power in the city of Ada are paying proportionately a sum quite as distinctly out of reason as is the city for its public requirements.

Food for Thought.
"MUNICIPAL PLANTS."

"The successful operation of the municipally owned waterworks and lighting plants in cities throughout the central west has given a strong impetus to improvements of this kind. Over forty municipal waterworks plants (many of these being combined water and lighting plants) have been installed in Oklahoma in the last year. Kansas installed thirty-four municipal plants in 1909, most of them being combined water and lighting plants. The Kansas state law permitting the state school fund to purchase municipal bonds has caused a ready home market for most of these bonds."—The Western Contractor.

Municipal Plants.
Several cities in Oklahoma already own, or are preparing to own, their power and lighting plants. Anadarko has already constructed here and the agitators have reached the point of tangible action in Durant, Ardmore and other municipalities.

WILL ADOPT GREENWICH TIME.

Ireland Gains Half Hour of Daylight by Conforming to English Standard.

London, Jan. 11.—That "daylight-saving" proposition which was started by one Mr. Willett and which has gained recruits in many parts of the world has not been successful in England as yet, but he has been a source of strength to the movement just started in Ireland for the adoption there of Greenwich time.

Ireland and France are the only two civilized countries which make their own time independent of the Greenwich meridian and the zone-time system based thereon, and the interval between the passage of the sun over the Greenwich and Dublin, or Dublin, meridians is the awkward one of twenty-five minutes, twenty-one seconds, by which amount Irish time is later than English. By deciding to use Greenwich time in the "Green Isle" where everything English usually has its own troubles, it is held that no little inconvenience in the business relations of the two countries will be eliminated and the people of Ireland, in addition, will gain nearly one-half hour's daylight without the necessity of periodically altering their timepieces. Meantime, the latest reports assert that the legislature of Victoria is about to consider a bill modeled on the lines of Mr. Willett's proposition, which now has been discussed the world over. That it has a chance of becoming a law there, is held to be shown in the fact that a kind of plebiscite on the part of the colonists for its enactment. Enthusiasts have taken steps to bring the other Austrian colonies into line on the question.

Clavis in the Woods.

White Salmon, Wash., Jan. 12.—L. R. Glavis, former chief of the field division of the general land office, is in the mountains thirty miles east of here on a fishing and hunting trip. He was reached by telephone tonight but refused to make any statement concerning the dismissal of Forester Gifford Pinchot.

TROUBLE JUST BEGINNING SAYS JAMES R. GARFIELD

GIVES HIS VIEW OF PINCHOT INCIDENT.

Issues Statement to Cleveland Paper in Which He Says Roosevelt Policies at Stake.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 11.—Declaring the policies of Roosevelt at stake and that the dismissal of Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot is not the end, but only an incident in the struggle, James R. Garfield, former secretary of the Interior, today wrote for a local newspaper his views on the conflict. His statement follows:

"I can not forbear a personal expression regarding the Roosevelt policies at this time. It is because one of the men who have stood nearest Roosevelt in the working out of those policies has only recently left public life, I refer to Gifford Pinchot.

Right Against Privilege.

"There is no man in our country today who has done more for equality of opportunity for the rights of the great masses of the people of this country, for the fight against privilege, and his separation from the public service is one of the greatest losses that he has suffered.

"But, fortunately, it does not mean that his work for every one of those policies will cease in any particular. It merely means that it will be done in another way; that he and the rest of the people who have joined in the fight for carrying on the Roosevelt policies are engaged in a fight which is not, for today, or one year or two years, but for generations to come. The policies that were initiated are the policies that must control if we are to be what this Nation ought to be in the future.

Strong Hearts Needed.

"It means that all right-minded men and women must recognize that the things that are worth while are the things that look to the future, that look to the individual betterment of the people of our country, that they can not be gained in a short time, by a short fight by weak-heartedness.

"In the last year of his administration, President Roosevelt at different times announced through his messages and speeches some of the principal things for which he had worked, some of the things that received the name of the 'Roosevelt policies.' I shall cite a few quotations of some of the things that he said because his own words explain better than the words of anyone else, what he had in mind when he initiated those policies. He said:

Quote's Roosevelt.

"This Administration has achieved some things; it has sought but has not been able to achieve others; it has doubtless made mistakes; but all it has done or attempted has been in the single, consistent effort to secure and enlarge the rights and opportunities of the men and women of the United States."

Against Woman Suffrage.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 12.—Protest against the sufficiency of the woman suffrage petitions recently filed with the Secretary of the State was made by Senator Ruben M. Roddie of Ada this afternoon. The protest alleges the petitions are not in proper form and that many of the signatures were not written by the persons themselves.

Woman suffrage is known as state question No. 8 and proposes to amend the state constitution by striking the word "male" from the suffrage provision. Senator Roddie stated this afternoon this was a continuation of his opposition to female suffrage. He opposed in the First and Second Legislatures a proposition presented by Senator Yeager of Tulsa to submit the question to a vote of the people.

Crazy Man Slays Wife.

Springfield, Mo., Jan. 12.—William Christman shot and killed his wife at their home, eight miles west of here, this afternoon. Christman a short time ago was released from an insane asylum as cured.

There is quite a boom in the lace
curtain trade in Ayrshire, in many of the factories the men are working 12-hour shifts.

The legislature of Saskatchewan,
Canada, recently adopted a clause to the factories act, fixing the legal working day for women at a maximum of eight hours.

The referendum vote of the International Pressmen and Assistants'

RAILROADS AND TARIFF TRUSTS O. K. SUBSIDY

ONLY HOPE LIES WITH DEMO-CRATS AND INSURGENTS.

President Taft Using Every Source
of Leverage at His Command.

(BY TAV)

Washington, Jan. 12.—Although
some of the republican leaders realize that the Humphrey ship subsidy
bill is almost as offensive to the people as the Payne-Aldrich bill before its passage, the measure which
will open the "pork barrel" to private ship owners is to be jammed
through congress regardless of consequences.

The railroads, the tariff trusts and
all the other special in crests that
are represented in congress have
added their O. K. to subsidy legislation. With President Taft using every source of leverage at his command to secure votes for the measure
the only hope for its defeat lies in a
coalition of democrats and insurgents.

When it is considered that a ship
subsidy is popularly viewed as class
legislation of the most vicious kind,
and that it has been turned down
by such representative commercial
organizations as the New York
Chamber of Commerce as both un-
American and impractical in theory,
it would seem that in forcing such a
law upon the people the republican
leaders are absolutely indifferent
whether the next House is lost to
the party now in power or not. Either
"that" or else hope for republican
success in the approaching congressional elections has been abandoned,
and the Aldrich-Cannon crowd out
for all the "pork" that is to be had
in the comparative short time which
remains before their forced retirement to private life.

What is the real significance of
the desperate attempt of the republicans to pass a ship subsidy bill at
this time? From what viewpoint will
the average citizen be likely to view
the situation?

The plan now is to pass a ship
subsidy bill within the next few days.
If this is done, it will mean that the
first important legislation to pass at
this session was a measure that will
benefit only a few already rich men.
I will mean that Congress delib-
erately turned its back upon legislation desired by the people to first
serve the special interests. And as
if to make more evident their contempt for public sentiment, the republican leaders have given the
country to understand that while a
ship subsidy bill is to be passed,
no attention is to be paid at this
session to postal banks or statehood
for Arizona and New Mexico, which
it will be recalled were promised in
the republican national platform in
as clear-cut English as could possi-
bly have been employed.

"Political blindness is the only explanation I can think of to describe
the action of the republican leaders
in persisting in their plan to pass

S. M. SHAW, PROP.

A ship subsidy bill at this time? The Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, one of the best posted men
in the house of shipping and navigation laws. The leaders in charge
of the majority side of the house
are simply drunk with power. They need only a little more rope, and
the job will be complete.
"If this ship subsidy bill is passed"
said Mr. Rainey, "where will the $5-000,000 that is to be paid annually
to the ship owners, come from? The subsidy's answer: 'Why, it is not
planned to take money from the public treasury. It is planned to use the
profit of the foreign mail branch of
the postoffice department, which is
approximately $5,000,000 annually.'"
"This is no answer to the question,
however. The postoffice department
is running at a loss of $17,500,000;
that was the deficit last year. If you
take the $5,000,000 of profit derived
from the foreign mail service to
give to ship owners, it will simply
mean the deficit will be increased
by that amount. Any school boy can
see that."

"Now if we give $5,000,000 to these
ship owners, some one must foot the
bill." And the government has no
funds except those which it collects
by taxing the people.

"In a few words, therefore, ship
subsidy legislation is a law to further exploit and oppress all the people
for the further enrichment of multi-
millionaires."

"The experience of France alone
shows that the idea is wrong. Her
heavy subsidies, though draining the
treasury, have utterly failed to produce the result anticipated while the
commerce of Norway in proportion to
its wealth and inhabitants makes an
exceptionally fine showing, without
any subsidies whatever."

"It is true that Germany pays sub-
sidies, but Germany does not depend upon ship subsidies. The Hamburg-American line, the largest steam
ship line in the world, does not receive a dollar of subsidy, and never
has except for two years (1901-3)
when two of the company's steam-
ships participated in a subsidized
service to east Asia, which they soon
voluntarily relinquished, German shipping and shipbuilding is growing,
and German steamship lines are free to
buy their ships at home or abroad, and
as a matter of fact, they sometimes
buy in one market, and sometimes
in another."

Special Stocks Show Weakness.

New York, Jan. 12.—The crumbling
away in prices of special stocks caused by sympathetic weakness in the whole stock market today. Rumors
attributed much of the selling to the
same sources as were responsible for
the transactions in Rock Island on Monday after Christmas. The decline
included Wheeling and Lake Erie
dropped 3 points, first preferred 5,
second preferred 3 3/4, Wabash-Pittsburg first certificates 3, second certificates 3 3/4, Wabash preferred 2,
Rock Island 2 1/2, Reading second
preferred 4 and Leclade Gas 3 1/2.
The average losses in the general
list were not nearly so severe, but
prices were generally lower 1 to 2
points.

TENTH ANNUAL MEETING

Tom Hope and Frank Jones for the 11th Time Elected President and Cashier of the Ada National Bank.

For the 11th time and at the 10th
annual meeting of the stockholders
of the Ada National Bank occurring
Tuesday, the board of directors there-
in elected unanimously to retain the same principal officers of this
pioneer banking institution, being
Tom Hope, president, and Frank
Jones, cashier. City Treasurer, Orville Smead remains the assistant
cashier. The old board of directors
was re-elected, being Tom Hope,
Frank Jones, M. Copeland, Z. E.
Copeland, J. F. McKeel, Miss Ella
Seales and J. B. McDonald.

Thus the old Ada National bank
under the direction of Tom Hope
and Frank Jones that planted down
in the middle of a field in the spring
of 1900 and forthwith went into
the city building business and drawing around it the more substantial
clientele in the country, continues
to do business at the same old stand.

ANNUAL MEETING OF OKLAHOMA STATE BANK

There occurred the annual meeting of the stockholders Tuesday of
the Oklahoma State Bank. Every one
of them sound, business men expressed unequivocal approval and
satisfaction with the conduct of the business of the year.

The old board of directors, with
one addition, was unanimously elected. Hon. Tom D. McKeown was additional director elected.

The directors of the Oklahoma
State bank are J. W. Hays, president, W. H. Ebey, vice president; W.
D. Hays, cashier, C. W. Floyd, F. S.
Houpt, Honorable Jno. P. Crawford,
Tom D. McKeown and B. H. Epperson.

Mr. L. A. Ellison was re-elected
assistant cashier.

Col. G. W. Hays, president, expressed the most emphatic optimism
relative to the flattering prospects of
the city for the year 1910 and incidentally his institution along side.

Another Holdenville Grand Jury.

Holdenville, Okla., Jan. 11.—There
will be a special grand jury convened in this city next Monday morning, being the third in the past nine months. The purpose is to investigate
the official conduct of county officials. District Judge Carruthers today obeyed a petition signed by about 500 citizens. The petition stated
among other things that it was plain
that the law was not being enforced
and it asked the court to secure competent non-resident counsel to conduct the investigation.

Judge Carruthers said in part:
"This petition brings a serious indictment against the good name of
our citizenship, as well as those
charged with the enforcement of the
law." He paid particular attention
to that part of the petition relative
to obtaining special counsel, saying
that he did not in end to let the court
get mixed up in political and personal controversies, and that under
the law he had no authority to se-
cure counsel, but that if the signers
or agitators of the petition wished
counsel, other than the county attorney, the governor's office was open
to hear the request of any citizens of
this state.

There is considerable excitement
over the matter and the result of the grand jury next week will be anxiously
awaited.

TOM WEST DIED YESTERDAY AT HOME NEAR FRANCIS.

Ex-Confederate Soldier and a Resident of Pontotoc County for Fifty Years.

Tom West, one of the oldest inhabitants of this county, died yesterday after a lingering illness at his home near Francis.

Mr. West was near seventy-five years of age and was one of the best known citizens of his part of the county where he has resided for fifty years. He was one of the first to enlist in the Southern cause during the civil war. A son, James West, lives in this city.

Interment took place today at the Cedar Grove cemetery, a large number attending.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS.

U. S. Marshal Ed Brents of Ada Sweeps Coalgate Clear of Bootleggers and Puts Lid On.

The News is late in saying so, but it is true nevertheless, that Ed Brents spent a few days in Coalgate last week and as a result of this visit, he on Saturday last, arrested near a dozen men on the charge of unlawfully disposing of intoxicants, and in all, docketed about 24 cases for the state and landed several of the violators in the county jail. Among those who were apprehended was a wholesaler from Denison who happened to be in the city on a business errand.

It is said that this is the first cleaning out Coalgate has enjoyed recently, and that the officers whose intensions it seems are good have been threatened and intimidated until they became practically inactive in the enforcement of the liquor laws.

Brents will continue in aiding in the enforcement of the prohibition laws in Oklahoma, and other localities may soon receive his visiting card.

Houses Wanted.
Ada is not growing as fast as she might on account of the fact that there are no vacant houses for rent and few being built for that purpose. Come through.

New York, Jan. 11.—Members of the Rockefeller Bible Class at the Fifth Avenue Baptist church are booming John D. Rockefeller, Jr., as a candidate for congress. The class has extended its formal congratulations to Mr. Rockefeller on the energy with which he has taken up his work as foreman of the special grand jury investigating the white slave traffic. With the congratulations went an expression of hope that the "cordial public endorsement will cause him to change his mind about the impossibility of a Rockefeller running for office."

To Abandon Echo.

Grove, Ok., Jan. 12.—L. Denning, who drives a mail stage between Grove and Afton, has been notified to abandon Echo as a stopping place for receiving and delivering mail. This means that the postoffice there is to be abolished. Echo is the oldest post office in the state. For many years those who have lived in that neighborhood have received their mail from that point. It is now likely that the patrons of Echo will be supplied from Needmore and Grove offices, or from boxes along the star route. It is also possible that the residents along that section of the country may soon have the advantage of rural free delivery.

Anadarko Receiving.

Anadarko, Okla., Jan. 11.—In celebration of the completion of a concrete dam across the Washita river, the cost of which was about $122,000, the commercial club held a jubilee meeting which was presided over by Mayor W. H. Plum. The fact that the city is to save $60,000 annually in the cost of operating its electric light plant, water plant and other municipal institutions was the cause of especial rejoicing, particularly when it is remembered that the cost of coal alone has been $8,000 annually.

Linna Not a Candidate.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 11.—Will Linna of Chickasha, secretary of the state election board, is not a candidate for chairman of the state democratic committee.

REPORTER WILL BE AFTER THE ITEMS EVERY DAY.

The Dropping of Items Into the Box Is All That Is Necessary to Start the Ball.

The "news" box remains at the cement plant and all employees of the institution are requested to drop in items to be published in the Evening News each day. We want to start a department for that part of the city and each item dropped into the box will help start it. If you or your family have been visiting or if you are entertaining guests, or if you know of any sickness make a note of it and slip it in the box and same will be published in the paper the same day. If you think you can't write it in the proper way, make a mention of the facts on paper and the office will fix it up.

Our idea is to get North Ada as well represented in the Evening News as any other section of the city, and if you people will co-operate with us in the matter, this will be accomplished.

A representative of the paper will be at the plant about 2 p. m. every day whether there are items in the box or not.

Get busy now and let's get started.

FLATTERING SHOWING.

The public's attention is called to the verified statement in another column of the condition of the M. & P. bank at the close of business December 31st, 1909. Such a sound statement and such an amount of deposits for such a new bank bespeaks very flattering indeed for Bankers Rives and Mason.

ANNUAL MEETING OF FARMERS STATE BANK

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers State Bank was held at its banking house January 11th, and was attended by practically all the owners of stock. The reports of the officers and directors, regarding the business of the past year, were unanimously approved, and the board of directors re-elected.

Immediately following this meeting, the directors qualified and organized, by electing the following officers: President, Wm. L. Byrd, Vice President, Charles T. Barney; Cashier, F. O. Harris.

The Farmers State Bank was the first guaranty state bank organized in the city of Ada. Its president, Hon. Wm. L. Byrd, president of the institution, in the old days was one of the notable governors of the Chickasaw Nation. He is very substantial financially and conservative in his business transactions. Mr. F. O. Harris, cashier of the Farmers State bank received the commendation of its stockholders for the excellent active conduct of the detail affairs of the institution which he organized. It is the program of this bank to extend its scope of usefulness during the year 1910 and in every manner meet with the approval and satisfaction of a critical public appreciative of sound and conservative, but progressive banking.

Confusing to Lucinda

"Three of us girls started to come down town on a surface car. There was I and a friend of mine and a friend of hers who was with her. Now usually, you know, we girls pay each her own fare, but my friend wanted to pay the fare of her friend, and what my friend wanted to do was to give me a dime for herself and her friend and have me pay for all three; and what I wanted to do was to give my friend my nickel and have her pay all three fares. I hope you understand this as far as I've got, for it's going to get more complicated right away."

"Well, the car was crowded when we got aboard, and we all had to stand up, and we tried to arrange that fare business as we stood there in the crowd, so that everything would be all right and ready when the conductor came around, and so I dropped my nickel in her handbag so she could pay, and she tried to hand her dime to me at the same time so I could pay, but in the crush somehow the dime was dropped between us and it fell down between the slats on the floor of the car, and there we let it rest, because we couldn't get at it in the crowd."

"Then pretty soon my friend and her friend came to the street where they were to get off, which they did; and this, you understand, before the conductor had got to us to collect our fares. So, you see, they got off without anybody paying their fares, they or I or anybody. And now things began to get more mixed up."

"Pretty soon after they had got off the conductor came along for my fare—I had got a seat by that time, near where I had been standing—and I told him I had dropped a dime on the floor and he could take it out of that. But there were some people still standing in the car and the conductor couldn't get the mat up with people standing on it, but evidently he believed me about the dime, for he didn't ask me again for my fare but went out and stood on the platform. And then more things happened."

"Sitting next to me was a mother with her little daughter, a very pretty little girl and handsomely dressed, as for that matter her mother was, too."

and presently the mother spoke and came down between the slats on the floor, and she told her little daughter, and of course the little girl at once began to dig for it. But she couldn't get it out with her fingers and in a minute she looked up and said:

"Mamma, give me a hairpin."

"And mamma smiled at that, but she gave her a hairpin, and in a minute, more the little girl had got the dime—which she handed over at once to me. I don't think the mother knew it was mine, but somehow the little girl did."

"So now I had the dime back, and when we came to the street where I was to get off I handed it to the conductor as I passed out, telling him that there was the dime that I dropped, and he took my fare out of it, and gave me back a nickel."

"And then I tried to cipher out who had paid, and how much, and with whose money; and the more I ciphered the more I got mixed up. I had certainly paid two fares, one to my friend when I gave her my nickel, which, if she knew it at all, she had forgotten all about, and then I had paid another five cents to the conductor."

"I had paid twice and yet I was really out only five cents, for that nickel to the conductor was paid out of my friend's dime, and of course the change from it belonged to her. My friend had lost a dime, but I had given her five cents with which to pay my fare, which she couldn't do, because the conductor didn't come for it, and she would get from me five cents more, the change out of the lost dime, which I had recovered."

"So who had paid and how much had anybody paid or lost, and the more I thought about all this the more confused I got, till I got so I just couldn't think, and then I asked Claude if he could figure it out."

"My brother Claude is great on figures, he can do sums with signs and all that sort of thing, and he said, as I told you, that it was all simple enough, that all I wanted to bother about was what he called the net result, and he said that when I had given my friend back the nickel out of the dime the net result of the entire transaction would be that this party of three would have paid out one fare, the fare paid by me, and that the company would be out two fares."

"And I think I can understand it now, but I hope I shall never have another experience like that, because trying to get this one straight in my mind actually made my head ache."

A Miss. "She says her face is her fortune." "She is deceiving you." "Why, has she money?" "No, but the kind of a face she carries is never a fortune."

Mean. "Mr. Flipper tries to kiss every pretty girl he meets." "He hasn't tried to kiss me yet." "You heard what I said, didn't you?"

The Idiocy of Man

"Hi!" said Aunt Amelia, as she turned with unnecessary fervor the heel of the stocking she was knitting. The good-looking matronly woman who was watering the Boston fern turned quickly. "Now, Aunt Amelia," she exclaimed, "what have I done that's wrong? You used to make exactly that same disapproving noise when I was ten years old and stole cookies. I was merely telling Rosamund things for her own good. She's a pretty girl if she is my own daughter and I want her to be popular and worthy to be liked!"

"I'm!" said Aunt Amelia again. She poked a knitting needle reflectively through the lace at her wrist. "I don't know," she admitted, "that you said anything wrong. You were advising Rosie to be self-sacrificing and thoughtful of others and to get up early mornings so she could accomplish more. That's exactly what the proper sort of mother is expected to say. Still, if Rosie follows your advice she'll be left at the post, all right."

"Why, Aunt Amelia!" cried the matronly woman, sitting down in surprise at her relative's levity.

"I think I've picked up a bit of slang since the boys down home went to college," Aunt Amelia explained, with an air of pride. "I've kept up with the times since you were married, Anastasia! And you notice lots of things as you grow older."

"I was just thinking," went on Aunt Amelia, "about two girls down at home and wondering why every human man is an exception to the rule. You give any man the sort of girl he ought to like and he backs away and loses his head over the other kind and then expects you to congratulate him on having succeeded in making his whole life miserable."

"There were the Green girls, Emma and Bessie, and when you married and went away they were making mud pies. Well, when they grew up if ever there was a selfish bit of humanity it was Bessie Green. She was not indolent, she was just plain, downright lazy. People didn't think much about her faults, though, because her eyes had a trick of sparkling through her lashes at you and she was always ready for any good time that was going."

"Emma was just as pretty as Bessie, but she was quiet and she didn't look at you through her eyelashes. She had great gray eyes as open and clear as lakes and a fashion of seeing down to the bottom of your mind where you had tucked away the disagreeable part of yourself and thought it hidden. Not that Emma was a prig—she was just an exceptionally lovely, sweet-minded girl."

"Their mother was delicate and Emma used to get up early and see that breakfast was right for father and the boys. Usually Bessie had her breakfast sent upstairs. She said that since Emma was up for breakfast there really was no sense in her getting up, too. Emma knew how to cook and Bessie frankly said she loathed the kitchen and all concerned with it and would rather live on toast and tea than burn her face and hands and get a headache."

"Emma made herself the prettiest sort of dresses and blouses and Bessie got hers ready-made or hired a dressmaker. She said she didn't know how to sew and wasn't ever going to learn."

"In short, Emma spent her time doing things for other people because she was naturally so generous and sweet she couldn't help it. She had all the virtues of a model woman besides plenty of good looks, and she was properly modest and retiring. When they went out anywhere there might be an older man or so who would hunt out Emma because they had sufficient brains to appreciate her, but you ought to have seen the young circle about Bessie."

"Well, after Bessie had driven two men to drink and two others had quarreled about her and several more had had the blues for months she got engaged to the cashier in a bank just because Emma liked him. Oh, no, she didn't marry him—she coolly threw him over when a rich man came along. She promptly married the rich man."

"You ought to see her house! She won't bother her head over it, because she says there are servants to do that. Her husband never got a decent meal at home and nothing in the place is ever put away where it belongs. Her husband sews on his own buttons and carries up her breakfast to her before he leaves in the morning. If she sheds tears about anything he buys her diamonds, and if she sulks he lets her go to Europe."

"Emma? She married the bank cashier finally and they are ordinarily happy. You see, like all men who marry good wives, he takes his perfectly run home as a matter of course. Sometimes when he meets Bessie she looks at him through her eyelashes in the old way and his heart thumps!"

The good-looking matronly woman stared out of the window. "I'd better send Rosamund to a beauty shop for cultivation and tell her to stop thinking about anybody but herself, if she is to be happy in future—is that what you mean?" she asked with a little sigh.

"I believe you might as well," replied Aunt Amelia, "the world being so perfectly idiotic in these present times."

SHERIFF SAVES NEGROES

300 DEPUTIES SWORN IN TO PROTECT ILLINOIS MAIL MAN'S SLAYERS.

FOUR COMPANIES MILITIA OUT

Mob Frustrated When Sheriff at Vienna Instructs Railroad Officials How to Operate Trains.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 11.—Rioting is reported from Vienna, Ill., thirty-five miles north of this city. The local militia company has been ordered to proceed there on a special train at once.

It is reported a mob is trying to lynch several negroes. The telephone wires have been cut to this city and Vienna is isolated.

Sheriff Frustrates Mob. Vienna, Ill., Jan. 11.—Mobs that formed at Eldorado and Harrisburg tonight to lynch three negroes in jail here, charged with the murder of Allen Clark, a rural carrier, were frustrated when they could not get a train to bring them to this city.

Acting on instructions from Sheriff Mathis, the Big Four officials refused to permit freight trains to continue to this city from Eldorado and Harrisburg and no trains will be run until tomorrow morning. By that time it is expected that four companies of militia ordered out by Gov. Deneen upon an appeal from the sheriff that a lynching was imminent will have arrived.

The jail is heavily guarded, Sheriff Mathis having sworn in 300 deputies, or nearly every available man in the village, to protect the prisoners.

The military company from Cairo is now on the way here, it is reported, and should arrive by midnight.

Assaulted Saturday Night. Clark was assaulted by three negroes Saturday night en route to Harrisburg. The trio of negroes were Jesse Taborn, Harry Taborn and Alexander Jenks.

The three were arrested and lodged in the Johnson county jail at Vienna.

Clark died tonight at 6 o'clock, and the report of his death aroused popular sentiment against his slayers to the frenzy point, particularly at Harrisburg, his home.

Bobs of between 300 and 500 persons each formed at that city and Eldorado and were only awaiting means of getting transportation to this city.

Sheriff Mathis took immediate precautions to protect his prisoners, appealing to Gov. Deneen for troops. Governor Orders Militia.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 11.—Gov. Deneen tonight ordered four companies of the Fourth Infantry, Illinois National Guard, to report at once to Sheriff Mathis of Johnson county in order to prevent the possible lynching of three negroes now confined in jail at Vienna on a charge of shooting Allen Clark, a rural mail carrier last Saturday night.

Capt. Satterfield of Mount Vernon, Creaney, of Cairo, Cody of Paris and Swain of Danville, with their respective companies, were ordered to report at once to Sheriff Mathis for duty. All orders from the governor were stamped "At once."

Sheriff Mathis said he had been informed that a mob was forming at Eldorado and Harrisburg and had planned to go to Vienna on a freight train. At Vienna it was planned, so he reported, to mob the jail and lynch if possible, the three negroes.

According to advices received here from Sheriff Mathis, a rural mail carrier, Allen Clark, was shot last Saturday night on the train en route from Vienna to Harrisburg by a trio of negroes named Jesse Labor, Harry Toborn and Alexander Jenks.

To further forestall the reported mob, Gov. Deneen telegraphed immediately to P. J. Maloney of Mount Carmel, superintendent of the Cairo division of the Big Four Railroad, ordering him not to transport over his road any crowd of persons such as described by Sheriff Mathis.

Gov. Deneen also issued a special order to Sheriff Mathis to swear in special deputies and take every precaution to enforce the law to the letter.

SECOND HEARING GRANTED.

Board of Engineers Again Considering Cypress River Project.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The Board of Engineers today granted a second hearing on the Cypress river project, the plan being to improve the stream from Shreveport to Jefferson, as recommended by the local and division engineers. Representatives sheppard of Texas and Watkins of Louisiana and Mayor Sherrell of Jefferson appeared before the board and made arguments. The decision of the board will not be made public for several days.

THE CLUTCHES OF AN ADA OCTOPUS AT CITY'S THROAT

The city of Ada should own its lighting and electric power system. The exorbitant rates charged by the Ada electric light and power company, a monopoly owned by St. Louis parties, are most convincingly exorbitant ones. If the city of Ada is required to continue to pay $500 a month or six thousand dollars a year to the local monopoly for merely street lighting and water pumping power, it will have within a short period paid for an electric plant system. The prices charged the city of Ada for the public utility of lighting and pumping are hardly less than confiscation, and then the private consumers of light and power in the city of Ada are paying proportionately a sum quite as distinctly out of reason as is the city for its public requirements.

Food for Thought.

"MUNICIPAL PLANTS."

"The successful operation of the municipally owned waterworks and lighting plants in cities throughout the central west has given a strong impetus to improvements of this kind. Over forty municipal waterworks plants (many of these being combined water and lighting plants) have been installed in Oklahoma in the last year. Kansas installed thirty-four municipal plants in 1909, most of them being combined water and lighting plants. The Kansas state law permitting the state school fund to purchase municipal bonds has caused a ready home market for most of these bonds."—The Western Contractor.

Municipal Plants.

Several cities in Oklahoma already own, or are preparing to own, their power and lighting plants. Anadarko has already constructed hers and the agitators have reached the point of tangible action in Durant, Ardmore and other municipalities.

WILL ADOPT GREENWICH TIME.

Ireland Gains Half Hour of Daylight by Conforming to English Standard.

London, Jan. 11.—That "daylight-saving" proposition which was started by one Mr. Willett and which has gained recruits in many parts of the world has not been successful in England as yet, but he has been a source of strength to the movement just started in Ireland for the adoption there of Greenwich time.

Ireland and France are the only two civilized countries which make their own time independent of the Greenwich meridian and the zone-time system based thereon, and the interval between the passage of the sun over the Greenwich and Dublin, or Dublin, meridians is the awkward one of twenty-five minutes, twenty-one seconds, by which amount Irish time is later than English. By deciding to use Greenwich time in the "Green Isle" where everything English usually has its own troubles, it is held that no little inconvenience in the business relations of the two countries will be eliminated and the people of Ireland, in addition, will gain nearly one-half hour's daylight without the necessity of periodically altering their timepieces. Meantime, the latest reports assert that the legislature of Victoria is about to consider a bill modeled on the lines of Mr. Willett's proposition, which now has been discussed the world over. That it has a chance of becoming a law there, is held to be shown in the fact that a kind of plebiscite on the part of the colonists for its enactment. Enthusiasts have taken steps to bring the other Australian colonies into line on the question.

Glavis in the Woods.

White Salmon, Wash., Jan. 12.—L. R. Glavis, former chief of the field division of the general land office, is in the mountains thirty miles east of here on a fishing and hunting trip. He was reached by telephone tonight but refused to make any statement concerning the dismissal of Forester Gifford Pinchot.

TROUBLE JUST BEGINNING SAYS JAMES R. GARFIELD

GIVES HIS VIEW OF PINCHOT INCIDENT.

Issues Statement to Cleveland Paper in Which He Says Roosevelt Policies at Stake.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 11.—Declaring the policies of Roosevelt at stake and that the dismissal of Chief Forester Gifford Pinchot is not the end, but only an incident in the struggle, James R. Garfield, former secretary of the Interior, today wrote for a local newspaper his views on the conflict. His statement follows:

"I can not forbear a personal expression regarding the Roosevelt policies at this time. It is because one of the men who have stood nearest Roosevelt in the working out of those policies has only recently left public life. I refer to Gifford Pinchot.

Fight Against Privilege.

"There is no man in our country today who has done more for equality of opportunity for the rights of the great masses of the people of this country, for the fight against privilege, and his separation from the public service is one of the greatest losses that he has suffered.

"But, fortunately, it does not mean that his work for every one of those policies will cease in any particular. It merely means that it will be done in another way; that he and the rest of the people who have joined in the fight for carrying on the Roosevelt policies are engaged in a fight which is not, for today, or one year or two years, but for generations to come. The policies that were initiated are the policies that must control if we are to be what this Nation ought to be in the future.

Strong Hearts Needed.

"It means that all right-minded men and women must recognize that the things that are worth while are the things that look to the future, that look to the individual betterment of the people of our country, that they can not be gained in a short time, by a short fight by weak-hearted.

"In the last year of his administration, President Roosevelt at different times announced through his messages and speeches some of the principal things for which he had worked, some of the things that received the name of the 'Roosevelt policies.' I shall cite a few quotations of some of the things that he said because his own words explain better than the words of anyone else, what he had in mind when he initiated those policies. He said:

Quot's Roosevelt.

"This Administration has achieved some things; it has sought; but has not been able to achieve others; it has done some mistakes; but all it has done or attempted has been in the single, consistent effort to secure and enlarge the rights and opportunities of the men and women of the United States."

Against Woman Suffrage.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 12.—Protest against the sufficiency of the woman suffrage petitions recently filed with the Secretary of the State was made by Senator Ruben M. Roddie of Ada this afternoon. The protest alleges the petitions are not in proper form and that many of the signatures were not written by the persons themselves.

Woman suffrage is known as state question No. 8 and proposes to amend the state constitution by striking the word "male" from the suffrage provision. Senator Roddie stated this afternoon this was a continuation of his opposition to female suffrage. He opposed in the First and Second Legislatures a proposition presented by Senator Yeager of Tulsa to submit the question to a vote of the people.

Crazy Man Slays Wife.

Springfield, Mo., Jan. 12.—William Christman shot and killed his wife at their home, eight miles west of here, this afternoon. Christman a short time ago was released from an insane asylum as cured.

Vacancy Not Filled.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 12—No appointment has been made to fill the State Board of affairs vacancy, caused by the resignation of Col. Roy Hoffman.
W. T. Walker, editor of the Clinton
News, and former clerk of Custer county, has declined the place. The names of Edmund Frantz of Elmd
and Joe Roetzel of Watonga are now being suggested for the appointment.
Edmund Frantz is a brother of former Territorial governor Frantz, who was the Republican nominee against Haskell in the first state election,
and Roetzel was candidate for corporation commissioner on the democratic ticket in the same campaign.

RAILROADS AND TARIFF

TRUSTS O. K. SUBSIDY

ONLY HOPE LIES WITH DEMO-CRATS AND INSURGENTS.

President Taft Using Every Source
of Leverage at His Command.

(BY TAV)

Washington, Jan. 12.—Although
some of the republican leaders realize that the Humphrey ship subsidy
bill is almost as offensive to the people as the Payne-Aldrich bill before its passage, the measure which
will open the "pork barrel" to private ship owners is to be jammed
through congress regardless of consequences.

The railroads, the tariff trusts and
all the other special in crests that
are represented in congress have
added their O. K. to subsidy legislation. With President Taft using every source of leverage at his command to secure votes for the measure
the only hope for its defeat lies in a
coalition of democrats and insurgents.

When it is considered that a ship
subsidy is popularly viewed as class
legislation of the most vicious kind,
and that it has been turned down
by such representative commercial
organizations as the New York
Chamber of Commerce as both un-
American and impractical in theory,
it would seem that in forcing such a
law upon the people the republican
leaders are absolutely indifferent
whether the next House is lost to
the party now in power or not. Either
"that" or else hope for republican
success in the approaching congressional elections has been abandoned,
and the Aldrich-Cannon crowd out
for all the "pork" that is to be had
in the comparative short time which
remains before their forced retirement to private life.

What is the real significance of
the desperate attempt of the republicans to pass a ship subsidy bill at
this time? From what viewpoint will
the average citizen be likely to view
the situation?

The plan now is to pass a ship
subsidy bill within the next few days.
If this is done, it will mean that the
first important legislation to pass at
this session was a measure that will
benefit only a few already rich men.
I will mean that Congress delib-
erately turned its back upon legislation desired by the people to first
serve the special interests. And as
if to make more evident their contempt for public sentiment, the republican leaders have given the
country to understand that while a
ship subsidy bill is to be passed,
no attention is to be paid at this
session to postal banks or statehood
for Arizona and New Mexico, which
it will be recalled were promised in
the republican national platform in
as clear-cut English as could possi-
bly have been employed.

"Political blindness is the only explanation I can think of to describe
the action of the republican leaders
in persisting in their plan to pass

A ship subsidy bill at this time? The Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, one of the best posted men
in the house of shipping and navigation laws. The leaders in charge
of the majority side of the house
are simply drunk with power. They
need only a little more rope, and
the job will be complete.

"If this ship subsidy bill is passed"
said Mr. Rainey, "where will the $5-000,000 that is to be paid annually
to the ship owners, come from? The subsidy's answer: 'Why, it is not
planned to take money from the public treasury. It is planned to use the
profit of the foreign mail branch of
the postoffice department, which is
approximately $5,000,000 annually.'

"This is no answer to the question,
however. The postoffice department
is running at a loss of $17,500,000;
that was the deficit last year. If you
take the $5,000,000 of profit derived
from the foreign mail service to
give to ship owners, it will simply
mean the deficit will be increased
by that amount. Any school boy can
see that.

"Now if we give $5,000,000 to these
ship owners, some one must foot the
bill! And the government has no
funds except those which it collects
by taxing the people.

"In a few words, therefore, ship
subsidy legislation is a law to further exploit and oppress all the people
for the further enrichment of multi-
millionaires.

"The experience of France alone
shows that the idea is wrong. Her
heavy subsidies, though draining the
treasury, have utterly failed to produce the result anticipated while the
commerce of Norway in proportion to
its wealth and inhabitants makes an
exceptionally fine showing, without
any subsidies whatever.

"It is true that Germany pays sub-
sidies, but Germany does not depend upon ship subsidies. The Hamburg-American line, the largest steam
ship line in the world, does not receive a dollar of subsidy, and never
has except for two years (1901-3)
when two of the company's steam-
ships participated in a subsidized
service to east Asia, which they soon
voluntarily relinquished, German shipping and shipbuilding is growing,
and German steamship lines are free to
buy their ships at home or abroad, and
as a matter of fact, they sometimes
buy in one market, and sometimes
in another."

Special Stocks Show Weakness.

New York, Jan. 12.—The crumbling
away in prices of special stocks caused by sympathetic weakness in the
whole stock market today. Rumors
attributed much of the selling to the
same sources as were responsible for
the transactions in Rock Island on Monday after Christmas. The decline
included Wheeling and Lake Erie
dropped 3 points, first preferred 5,
second preferred 3 3/4, Wabash-Pittsburg first certificates 3, second certificates 3 3/4, Wabash preferred 2,
Rock Island 2 1/2, Reading second
preferred 4 and Leclade Gas 3 1/2.
The average losses in the general
list were not nearly so severe, but
prices were generally lower 1 to 2
points.

TENTH ANNUAL MEETING

Tom Hope and Frank Jones for the 11th Time Elected President and Cashier of the Ada National Bank.

For the 11th time and at the 10th
annual meeting of the stockholders
of the Ada National Bank occurring
Tuesday, the board of directors there-
in elected unanimously to retain the same principal officers of this
pioneer banking institution, being
Tom Hope, president, and Frank
Jones, cashier. City Treasurer, Orville Smead remains the assistant
cashier. The old board of directors
was re-elected, being Tom Hope,
Frank Jones, M. Copeland, Z. E.
Copeland, J. F. McKeel, Miss Ella
Seales and J. B. McDonald.

Thus the old Ada National bank
under the direction of Tom Hope
and Frank Jones that planted down
in the middle of a field in the spring
of 1900 and forthwith went into
the city building business and draw-
ing around it the more substantial
clientele in the country, continues
to do business at the same old stand.

ANNUAL MEETING OF OKLAHOMA STATE BANK

There occurred the annual meeting of the stockholders Tuesday of
the Oklahoma State Bank. Every one
of them sound, business men expressed unequivocal approval and
satisfaction with the conduct of the
business of the year.

The old board of directors, with
one addition, was unanimously elect-
ed. Hon. Tom D. McKeown was additional director elected.

The directors of the Oklahoma
State bank are J. W. Hays, president, W. H. Ebey, vice president; W.
D. Hays, cashier, C. W. Floyd, F. S.
Houpt, Honorable Jno. P. Crawford,
Tom D. McKeown and B. H. Epperson.

Mr. L. A. Ellison was re-elected
assistant cashier.

Col. G. W. Hays, president, expressed the most emphatic optimism
relative to the flattering prospects of
the city for the year 1910 and incidentally his institution along side.

Another Holdenville Grand Jury.

Holdenville, Okla., Jan. 11.—There
will be a special grand jury convened in this city next Monday morning, being the third in the past nine months. The purpose is to investigate
the official conduct of county officials. District Judge Carruthers today obeyed a petition signed by about 500 citizens. The petition stated
among other things that it was plain
that the law was not being enforced
and it asked the court to secure competent non-resident counsel to conduct the investigation.

Judge Carruthers said in part:
"This petition brings a serious indictment against the good name of
our citizenship, as well as those
charged with the enforcement of the
law." He paid particular attention
to that part of the petition relative
to obtaining special counsel, saying
that he did not in end to let the court
get mixed up in political and personal controversies, and that under
the law he had no authority to se-
cure counsel, but that if the signers
or agitators of the petition wished
counsel, other than the county attorney, the governor's office was open
to hear the request of any citizens of
this state.

There is considerable excitement
over the matter and the result of the grand jury next week will be anxiously
awaited.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS.

U. S. Marshal Ed Brents of Ada Sweeps Coalgate Clear of Bootleggers and Puts Lid On.

The News is late in saying so, but it is true nevertheless, that Ed Brents spent a few days in Coalgate last week and as a result of this visit, he on Saturday last, arrested near a dozen men on the charge of unlawfully disposing of intoxicants, and in all, docketed about 24 cases for the state and landed several of the violators in the county jail. Among those who were apprehended was a wholesaler from Denison who happened to be in the city on a business errand.

It is said that this is the first cleaning out Coalgate has enjoyed recently, and that the officers whose intervention it seems are good have been threatened and intimidated until they became practically inactive in the enforcement of the liquor laws.

Brents will continue in aiding in the enforcement of the prohibition laws in Oklahoma, and other localities may soon receive his visiting card.

Injuries Received While in Yards Prove Fatal.

McAlester, Ok., Jan. 12.—W. H. McGowan, an employee of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway in the north yards, was struck by an engine as he was alighting from another last night, and died this morning in a hospital.

To Abandon Echo.

Grove, Ok., Jan. 12.—L. Denning, who drives a mail stage between Grove and Afton, has been notified to abandon Echo as a stopping place for receiving and delivering mail. This means that the postoffice there is to be abolished. Echo is the oldest post office in the state. For many years those who have lived in that neighborhood have received their mail from that point. It is now likely that the patrons of Echo will be supplied from Needmore and Grove offices, or from boxes along the star route. It is also possible that the residents along that section of the country may soon have the advantage of rural free delivery.

Anadarko Receiving.

Anadarko, Okla., Jan. 11.—In celebration of the completion of a concrete dam across the Washita river, the cost of which was about $122,000, the commercial club held a jubilee meeting which was presided over by Mayor W. H. Plum. The fact that the city is to save $60,000 annually in the cost of operating its electric light plant, water plant and other municipal institutions was the cause of especial rejoicing, particularly when it is remembered that the cost of coal alone has been $8,000 annually.

Lina Not a Candidate.

Guthrie, Ok., Jan. 11.—Will Linn of Chickasha, secretary of the state election board, is not a candidate for chairman of the state democratic committee.

SOME MORE ABOUT THAT NORTH ADA NEWS BOX

REPORTER WILL BE AFTER THE ITEMS EVERY DAY.

The Dropping of Items Into the Box Is All That Is Necessary to Start the Ball.

The "news" box remains at the cement plant and all employees of the institution are requested to drop in items to be published in the Evening News each day. We want to start a department for that part of the city and each item dropped into the box will help start it. If you or your family have been visiting or if you are entertaining guests, or if you know of any sickness make a note of it and slip it in the box and same will be published in the paper the same day. If you think you can't write it in the proper way, make a mention of the facts on paper and the office will fix it up. Our idea is to get North Ada as well represented in the Evening News as any other section of the city, and if you people will co-operate with us in the matter, this will be accomplished.

A representative of the paper will be at the plant about 2 p. m. every day whether there are items in the box or not.

Get busy now and let's get started.

FLATTERING SHOWING.

The public's attention is called to the verified statement in another column of the condition of the M. & P. bank at the close of business December 31st, 1909. Such a sound statement and such an amount of deposits for such a new bank bespeaks very flattering indeed for Bankers Rives and Mason.

ANNUAL MEETING OF FARMERS STATE BANK

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers State Bank was held at its banking house January 11th, and was attended by practically all the owners of stock. The reports of the officers and directors, regarding the business of the past year, were unanimously approved, and the board of directors re-elected.

Immediately following this meeting, the directors qualified and organized, by electing the following officers: President, Wm. L. Byrd, Vice President, Charles T. Barney; Cashier, F. O. Harris.

The Farmers State Bank was the first guaranty state bank organized in the city of Ada. Its president, Hon. Wm. L. Byrd, president of the institution, in the old days was one of the notable governors of the Chickasaw Nation. He is very substantial financially and conservative in his business transactions. Mr. F. O. Harris, cashier of the Farmers State bank received the commendation of its stockholders for the excellent active conduct of the detail affairs of the institution which he organized. It is the program of this bank to extend its scope of usefulness during the year 1910 and in every manner meet with the approval and satisfaction of a critical public appreciative of sound and conservative, but progressive banking.

Confusing to Lucinda

"Three of us girls started to come down town on a surface car. There was I and a friend of mine and a friend of hers who was with her. Now usually, you know, we girls pay each her own fare, but my friend wanted to pay the fare of her friend, and what my friend wanted to do was to give me a dime for herself and her friend and have me pay for all three; and what I wanted to do was to give my friend my nickel and have her pay all three fares. I hope you understand this as far as I've got, for it's going to get more complicated right away."

"Well, the car was crowded when we got aboard, and we all had to stand up, and we tried to arrange that fare business as we stood there in the crowd, so that everything would be all right and ready when the conductor came around, and so I dropped my nickel in her handbag so she could pay, and she tried to hand her dime to me at the same time so I could pay, but in the crush somehow the dime was dropped between us and it fell down between the slats on the floor of the car, and there we let it rest, because we couldn't get at it in the crowd."

"Then pretty soon my friend and her friend came to the street where they were to get off, which they did; and this, you understand, before the conductor had got to us to collect our fares. So, you see, they got off without anybody paying their fares, they or I or anybody. And now things began to get more mixed up."

"Pretty soon after they had got off the conductor came along for my fare—I had got a seat by that time, near where I had been standing—and I told him I had dropped a dime on the floor and he could take it out of that. But there were some people still standing in the car and the conductor couldn't get the mat up with people standing on it, but evidently he believed me about the dime, for he didn't ask me again for my fare but went out and stood on the platform. And then more things happened."

"Sitting next to me was a mother with her little daughter, a very pretty little girl and handsomely dressed, as for that matter her mother was, too, and presently the mother spoke and she came down the slats on the floor, and she told her little daughter, and of course the little girl at once began to dig for it. But she couldn't get it out with her fingers and in a minute she looked up and said:

"Mamma, give me a hairpin."

"And mamma smiled at that, but she gave her a hairpin, and in a minute more the little girl had got the dime—which she handed over at once to me. I don't think the mother knew it was mine, but somehow the little girl did."

"So now I had the dime back, and when we came to the street where I was to get off I handed it to the conductor as I passed out, telling him that there was the dime that I dropped, and he took my fare out of it, and gave me back a nickel."

"And then I tried to cipher out who had paid, and how much, and with whose money; and the more I ciphered the more I got mixed up. I had certainly paid two fares, one to my friend when I gave her my nickel, which, if she knew it at all, she had forgotten all about, and then I had paid another five cents to the conductor."

"I had paid twice and yet I was really out only five cents, for that nickel to the conductor was paid out of my friend's dime, and of course the change from it belonged to her. My friend had lost a dime, but I had given her five cents with which to pay my fare, which she couldn't do, because the conductor didn't come for it, and she would get from me five cents more, the change out of the lost dime, which I had recovered."

"So who had paid and how much had anybody paid or lost, and the more I thought about all this the more confused I got, till I got so I just couldn't think, and then I asked Claude if he could figure it out."

"My brother Claude is great on figures, he can do sums with signs and all that sort of thing, and he said, as I told you, that it was all simple enough, that all I wanted to bother about was what he called the net result, and he said that when I had given my friend back the nickel out of the dime the net result of the entire transaction would be that this party of three would have paid out one fare, the fare paid by me, and that the company would be out two fares."

"And I think I can understand it now, but I hope I shall never have another experience like that, because trying to get this one straight in my mind actually made my head ache."

A Miss.

"She says her face is her fortune." "She is deceiving you." "Why, has she money?" "No, but the kind of a face she carries is never a fortune."

Mean.

"Mr. Flipper tries to kiss every pretty girl he meets." "He hasn't tried to kiss me yet." "You heard what I said, didn't you?"

The Idiocy of Man

"Hi!" said Aunt Amelia, as she turned with unnecessary fervor the heel of the stocking she was knitting. The good-looking matronly woman who was watering the Boston fern turned quickly. "Now, Aunt Amelia," she exclaimed, "what have I done that's wrong? You used to make exactly that same disapproving noise when I was ten years old and stole cookies. I was merely telling Rosema about things for her own good. She's a pretty girl if she is my own daughter and I want her to be popular and worthy to be liked!"

"Hi!" said Aunt Amelia again. She poked a knitting needle reflectively through the lace at her wrist. "I don't know," she admitted, "that you said anything wrong. You were advising Rose to be self-sacrificing and thoughtful of others and to get up early mornings so she could accomplish more. That's exactly what the proper sort of mother is expected to say. Still, if Rose follows your advice she'll be left at the post, all right."

"Why, Aunt Amelia!" cried the matronly woman, sitting down in surprise at her relative's levity. "I think I've picked up a bit of slang since the boys down home went to college," Aunt Amelia explained, with an air of pride. "I've kept up with the times since you were married, Anastasia! And you notice lots of things as you grow older."

"I was just thinking," went on Aunt Amelia, "about two girls down at home and wondering why every human man is an exception to the rule. You give any man the sort of girl he ought to like and he backs away and loses his head over the other kind and then expects you to congratulate him on having succeeded in making his whole life miserable."

"There were the Green girls, Emma and Bessie, and when you married and went away they were making mud pies. Well, when they grew up if ever there was a selfish bit of humanity it was Bessie Green. She was not indolent, she was just plain, downright lazy. People didn't think much about her faults, though, because her eyes had a trick of sparkling through her lashes at you and she was always ready for any good time that was going."

"Emma was just as pretty as Bessie, but she was quiet and she didn't look at you through her eyelashes. She had great gray eyes as open and clear as lakes and a fashion of seeing down to the bottom of your mind where you had tucked away the disagreeable part of yourself and thought it hidden. Not that Emma was a prig—she was just an exceptionally lovely, sweet-minded girl."

"Their mother was delicate and Emma used to get up early and see that breakfast was right for father and the boys. Usually Bessie had her breakfast sent upstairs. She said that since Emma was up for breakfast there really was no sense in her getting up, too. Emma knew how to cook and Bessie frankly said she loathed the kitchen and all concerned with it and would rather live on toast and tea than burn her face and hands and get a headache."

"Emma made herself the prettiest sort of dresses and blouses and Bessie got hers ready-made or hired a dressmaker. She said she didn't know how to sew and wasn't ever going to learn. "In short, Emma spent her time doing things for other people because she was naturally so generous and sweet she couldn't help it. She had all the virtues of a model woman besides plenty of good looks, and she was properly modest and retiring. When they went out anywhere there might be an older man or so who would hunt out Emma because they had sufficient brains to appreciate her, but you ought to have seen the young circle about Bessie."

"Well, after Bessie had driven two men to drink and two others had quarreled about her and several more had had the blues for months she got engaged to the cashier in a bank just because Emma liked him. Oh, no, she didn't marry him—she coolly threw him over when a rich man came along. She promptly married the rich man."

"You ought to see her house! She won't bother her head over it, because she says there are servants to do that. Her husband never got a decent meal at home and nothing in the place is ever put away where it belongs. Her husband sews on his own buttons and carries up her breakfast to her before he leaves in the morning. If she sheds tears about anything he buys her diamonds, and if she sulks he lets her go to Europe. "Emma? She married the bank cashier finally and they are ordinarily happy. You see, like all men who marry good wives, he takes his perfectly run home as a matter of course. Sometimes when he meets Bessie she looks at him through her eyelashes in the old way and his heart thumps!"

The good-looking matronly woman stared out of the window. "I'd better send Rosemaud to a beauty shop for cultivation and tell her to stop thinking about anybody but herself. If she is to be happy in future—is that what you mean?" she asked with a little sigh. "I believe you might as well," replied Aunt Amelia, "the world being so perfectly idiotic in these present times."

REAL ESTATE and FIRE INSURANCE

Advice We have recently established in the News Building a REAL ESTATE, INSURANCE and LOAN AGENCY and active and constant attention will be given to all business entrusted to our care. We propose to line up our agency along with the growth and advancement of the city, and we want to make your business acquaintance.

Real Estate We make a specialty of PUSHING property listed with our agency. We do not make a note of it on a memorandum, and forget it, but use printers ink to promote its early and sure sale. It pays to advertise. We preach that sort of doctrine and practice it as well. Property listed with us will be advertised, and if there is anything doing at all in the real estate transfers we are busy too. We have at the present date some pretty bargains in Ada stuff which you may see advertised in another column of this issue of the News. If you want to sell list with us today.

Insurance The WEAVER FIRE INSURANCE AGENCY was the first established in Ada, and during these nearly 10 years every claim has been promptly adjusted, to the entire satisfaction of the policy holder. This is not a bad record. This is true because only the best and strongest companies have been represented. Among these are: The Royal, New York Underwriters, the Niagara, and the Phenix. These are as strong as the Rock of Gibraltar. PROMPTNESS is the watch-word. You can make no mistake by selecting any of these to carry your risk.

Loans We are at present arranging to represent leading loan companies, and expect to be prepared at an early date to take care of applications for loans on city or farm property
